

thought that if the country escapes infection and invasion from New York, Boston, Portland or Quebec or any of the ports of the North Atlantic stations it will be a miracle.

A Suspected Case in Minnesota.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 13.—A special from Northfield, Minn., says P. L. Delaney has been taken seriously ill with what is considered Asiatic cholera. He was at the State Fair in charge of a lot of imported horses from France that arrived in New York just previous to the quarantine proclamation. It is thought that the infection was caused from the baggage which came over with the horses. The physicians refuse to talk.

Two Carloads of Immigrants Released.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 13.—The two carloads of German and Italian immigrants who have been travelling back and forth between Windsor and Niagara Falls since Friday have at last crossed over to this side and are now journeying towards their various destinations. They were released by the State health authorities yesterday and started West via the Wabash.

CAN'T LAND AT PHILADELPHIA.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

The steamer Ohio held in quarantine at the Delaware Breakwater.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—The American liner steamer Ohio, from Liverpool, with a number of residents of New York City in her cabin, is held in quarantine at the breakwater.

She has nearly a hundred first-class passengers, 100 second-class and 200 steerage passengers. No sickness appeared on board during the voyage, but as the steerage passengers had principally from Russia and Germany she is detained as a measure of precaution.

Kege Seance and Paper Mills May Shut Down.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

HOLTON, Mass., Sept. 13.—Since the cholera scare paper has been so scarce that President Whiting, of this city, has called a meeting of the Pulp and Paper Manufacturers' Association to be held in Springfield, Sept. 21 to see if the mills will shut down until rage is more plenty.

Precautions at Sing Sing Prison.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Superintendent of State Prisons Lathrop has ordered that 200 prisoners in Sing Sing prison be transferred to Dannemora and Auburn prisons, as a precautionary measure in view of the possibility of an epidemic of cholera in this State.

Reported Death from Cholera in Nevada.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

VIRGINIA, Nev., Sept. 13.—A man named Gland died at Empire today. The doctors report that his disease was genuine cholera.

SUFFERING AT GROSSE ISLE.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Montreal's Quarantine Arrangements Are Being Made in New York.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—The passengers on the steamer Labrador complain bitterly of the lack of accommodation at the Grosse Isle Quarantine station. They say that when the steamer arrived there was no firewood ready, and the crew had to go to the shore for it and cut wood for cooking and other purposes.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

MUST BURN ALL FLOTHAM.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Secretary Foster Issues an Order to the Life-Saving Service.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Complaint was made to Secretary Foster by telegraph this morning that bedding and articles that might bear the germs of disease have been floating ashore near Sandy Hook, and an appeal was made for protection from this source of danger.

The Secretary promptly directed that telegrams be sent to the keepers of the Life-Saving Service, to be followed by a general circular letter directing them to promptly burn all such drift stuff as soon as discovered by the patrolmen.

The commandant of the New York Navy Yard has called upon Secretary Tracy for additional marines to assist those at Sandy Hook in guarding government property and preserving order. Two companies from the Navy Yard will probably be sent on this afternoon.

The Plague in South Holland.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

THE HAGUE, Holland, Sept. 13.—Cholera and one death from the disease have been reported at Zwyndrecht, in South Holland, ten miles southwest of Rotterdam.

The village is situated on the River Meuse, and a large part of the trade consists in supplying vegetables to passing vessels.

COLUMBUS DAY FUNDS SHORT.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Committees of One Hundred Has $60,000 and Needs $100,000.

The Committee of 100 having in charge the Columbus Celebration in this city next month met today in the Governors' Room in the City Hall.

Present were F. W. J. Hunt, Samuel D. Babcock, Chauncey M. Dewar, C. A. Barstow, Abraham Mead, Michael Crane, Hugh B. Gardner, David H. Brown, Charles Harriott, Walter Stanton, Cornelius Vanderbit, E. Nicholas Kane, Giovanni P. Morriston, Nadere Strauss and Secretary Wahl.

It was reported that the committee had received $50,000 appropriation from the State, $10,000 from the State World's Fair Commission and $40,000 from private subscriptions, making a total of $100,000.

To make the affair a success $100,000 was needed. Several plans for raising the additional sum were discussed and finally a committee was referred to the Finance Committee which will meet on Thursday at the office of Samuel H. Babcock. They will report a plan to the full committee on Monday.

STREET-CAR LINE EXTENSION.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Application to Run a Cross-Town Line to West Street Ferries.

The Widener-Elkins syndicate made application to the Board of Street Railways this afternoon for privilege to extend the Metropolitan Cross-town Railway from the corner of Spring Street and South Fifth Avenue to Canal Street and West Broadway, thence along Broome, Sullivan and West Streets, to connect with the Hudson River Railroad, and also to connect with the Deabroome street ferry.

The application was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

Leaves It with the State Committee.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

PERKINS, Sept. 13.—The Governor will adjourn at 1 o'clock this morning, after having authorized the State Central Committee to nominate a State ticket.

"Home, sweet home, it is ever so humble, there's no place like home."

Provided it has THE WORLD'S WOMAN'S PAGE, which is printed every day.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

(Continued from First Page)

well crowded. There are altogether about six hundred men on board.

Adt. Gen. Porter was on hand to see that all went well, as was also Surgeon-General Lewis Balch, of Albany. Surgeon Balch did not accompany the Pegasus to Fire Island.

At 12 o'clock two steam launchers were brought around from the Navy Yard, each launch having a Hotchkiss revolving gun, of 37 millimeter calibre, mounted in the bow.

The gun carriages were taken along in the stern of the boats, ready to be used for shore service. Only one of these boats was finally taken along by the Pegasus to Fire Island, however.

TERRIBLE NIGHT ON THE CEPHEUS.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Fire Island, Sept. 13.—Dr. Jenkins arrived here at 9 A. M. and Mr. Thompson, who accompanied him, arrived at 10 A. M. He assured the imprisoned passengers that they would be landed on Fire Island today, or else he would discharge them from quarantine.

Louise greeted his speech.

Early this morning a boat came to the wharf, with Mr. Palmer and Mr. Thompson aboard. Mr. Palmer was one of the deputy sheriffs for a Western reporter, and dictated several telegrams, including one to Gov. Flower.

The latter was a piteous appeal to the Governor, telling that a storm was coming up and that the lives were imperiled, and asking that they be landed immediately or discharged from quarantine.

Mr. Palmer reported all well on board, but that, owing to the lack of accommodations and the overcrowded condition of the steamer, they had passed a miserable night. They slept in their clothes on mattresses strewn about the open decks.

Thirty deputy sheriffs are guarding this place to prevent the people on the Cepheus from landing. The Bay Shore mob is not here this morning, they relying on the sheriffs to keep the steamer away.

It is reported that a company of soldiers is on the way here to enable the steamer to land.

Sheriff Dowling, of Suffolk County, and his deputies had charge of Fire Island during the night. The surrounding waters of the bay were picked by fishermen in their boats, who kept a careful watch on the Cepheus.

One hundred mattresses and blankets and a large supply of cooked meats were taken aboard the Cepheus late last night. Breakfast was sent out to the Cepheus this morning at 6 o'clock.

It is stated that, before his departure from here this morning, Dr. Jenkins went out in a small boat to the Cepheus, and had a conversation with Dr. Sabin and Senator McPherson, telling them that unless the injunction of Justice Barnard was dissolved today, or the people allowed to land, he would keep quarantine and put them ashore in New York City.

The Injunction Strictly Regarded.

The Cepheus at sunrise lay at anchor in the channel about 200 yards from the steamboat wharf, and had three sailing vessels, and cut wood for cooking and other purposes.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

There is an old shed to cover the passengers and that is all. The place seems to be perfectly destitute of all the necessities of life. There are no tables nor anything to eat or drink, and bunk-like shelves against the wall supply the place of beds.

the hearts of the sworn officers who heard them were touched in an instant, and all of them made a dash for the rooms which were occupied by sleeping reporters, and all the towels, pieces of soap that could be found and buckets filled with clear, cool water were speedily put on board the yawl.

Mr. Thompson and Mr. Ward, when they realized that they were in contact with fellow-creatures who displayed some sympathy, were touched by the sympathy, and their former condition, venturing to ask if milk could be secured for the children.

A raid was immediately organized on the kitchen, and in five minutes a big can of the creamy fluid as could be wished for was on board the craft.

The two spokesmen then left the women on board, and in fact the men, would no doubt be hungry, and asked if there was any prospect of an early breakfast.

Two or three men ran back to the hotel, jumped around the corridor in a vain effort to find the steward's sleeping apartment, and in fact the men, would no doubt be hungry, and asked if there was any prospect of an early breakfast.

The steward and chef were among them, and in three minutes they were dressed and in the kitchen, where they started the fires for breakfast.

When Messrs. Thompson and Ward started on their return trip they seemed to be in a happier mood.

APPEAL FROM THE INJUNCTION.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

The Fire Island Injunction was up in court today. Lawyer William N. Dykman, accompanied by Corporation Counsel Clark, of New York, and Jenks, of Brooklyn, applied to the Federal Term of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, this morning, for an order vacating the restraining order granted yesterday by Justice Barnard.

The general term consisted of Justices Barnard, Pratt and Dykman, the latter the father of the lawyer making the application. In opening, lawyer Dykman said he wished to present an appeal from the injunction, which was granted by Justice Barnard, of the Federal Term of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, this morning, for an order vacating the restraining order granted yesterday by Justice Barnard.

The section of the quarantine laws which governed the case had not been brought before the Court, and the injunction should be granted; if the attention of the Court had been drawn to it, no order would probably have been signed.

The Legislature in 1892 revised the quarantine laws, and in article 2, chapter 480, section 12, it provided that the jurisdiction which the health officer should have in an emergency.

Mr. Dykman called attention to the article referred to, and quoted attention to the words, "he shall in the presence of immediate danger take the responsibility of applying such measures as shall be deemed indispensable for the protection of the public health."

Dr. Jenkins was simply doing his duty and taking such measures as he thought were indispensable. Section 605 provided that the Court had no jurisdiction to grant the order which Justice Barnard had granted.

The section provided that where a duty was imposed on a State officer or Board, an injunction restraining him or them shall not be granted except by the Supreme Court at a general term, and upon notice of the application to such officer, Board or other officer to be restrained.

Mr. Dykman called attention to the condition of the unfortunate people who are on the Cepheus, and the situation in the lower bay. He called upon the Court to vacate the injunction, which, he said, was the only support of the mob which now had possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

They were kept in the lower bay, and the mob was in possession of the island. Men and children were imprisoned without food by a mob whose strength was in an order of the Supreme Court.

driving the baymen, clamdiggers and fishermen to the verge of desperation.

News has reached here of the calling out of the Naval Reserve and the sixty-ninth Regiment, and the fact that the Government is determined to guard the baymen's interests.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

The baymen are furnished with food, promising plenty of relief today, has greatly increased the feeling of suspense among the inhabitants, who are waiting for the landing of the baymen.

order or direction appeared from, and the decision of said Board thereof shall be final.

"So you see," said the doctor, "that my position is clear, and I am justified in my determination to put my foot down on this unwarrantable invasion of my rights."

Jenkins visited the Cepheus.

It was after midnight when the Health Officer clambered aboard the Cepheus, which was anchored in the channel off Fire Island last night. He talked with committees representing the passengers, and says he left more firmly convinced than ever that the passengers must be landed without delay. The condition of the women and children was deplorable.

"I saw it and know," he said, "but under the circumstances I was powerless. I could only give this explanation—that relief from the hardships of their present surroundings would be afforded today."

"I could not blame them for saying hard things to me; that is one of the many unpleasant things a public officer must endure. But I satisfied them of my anxiety for their welfare, and I impressed on their belief on their minds that they had endured the last of their severe trials."

Asked if he anticipated a conflict with the mob today, Dr. Jenkins shook his head ominously, and, frowning darkly, said:

Resistance Means Bloodshed.

"I hope not for the sake of those poor deluded people. If there is any resistance there will be bloodshed as sure as heaven."

"Will you be at the scene, doctor?"

"Most assuredly. I will do all in my power to avert trouble, but if it is thrust upon us, why, the officers in charge of the law and order forces will see to it that the passengers and those in charge of them are protected."

The doctor now twenty men from Wilkinson's Detective Agency, who will go down to Fire Island, armed for an emergency, with the Naval Reserve.

Gov. Flower, Dr. Jenkins and the Quarantine Commissioner may precede the reserve on a fast tug.

APPEAL TO GOV. FLOWER.